Lunchtime Touring

Description for Participants

Lunchtime Touring is an opportunity to see what the race track looks like up close and personal from the seat of your car. It is NOT a racing session; it is not even a max. speed session. One of our instructors will lead the group around the track demonstrating the correct racing line while maintaining speeds that are safe for any street car. Think of it as a spirited twenty-minute drive without the worry of oncoming traffic or speeding tickets. If Sandia Speedway were a public road the speed limit would be about 35 MPH. You'll go faster than that but not so fast that you have to worry about explaining to your spouse why the brakes and tires on the vehicle are suddenly in need of replacement.

I understand the educational, non-racing nature of Lunchtime Touring
